The Livingston Diversity Council's Book Club will meet on Tuesday, September 11, 7:30 p.m. at Caribou Coffee, 3832 E. Grand River Avenue. The topic of this month's Book Club discussion will be "A Thousand Splendid Suns" by Khaled Hosseini.

The Livingston Diversity Council Book Club seeks to celebrate and educate the community through reading. Book Club organizers encourage the public to attend and participate as literature is used to facilitate discussions on the differences that make people distinct.

"A Thousand Splendid Suns" is set against the volatile events of Afghanistan's last thirty years from the Soviet invasion to the reign of the Taliban to the post-Taliban rebuilding. A story of two generations, it puts the violence, fear, hope, and faith of that country in intimate, human terms.

Khaled Hosseini is also the author of the highly acclaimed book "The Kite Runner." More information on the book can be found at www.khaledhosseini.com/index.html <<http://www.khaledhosseini.com/index.html>> .

The Book Club will meet next on November 13, 2007 to discuss "A fine Balance" by Rohinton Mistry. To be held at Stonehouse Coffee in Hamburg. To join the Livingston Diversity Book Club or to receive more information, email membersite@livingstondiversity.com <<mailto:membersite@livingstondiversity.com>> .
